

Oxford Open Days '10

On 30th June/1st July 2010 thirteen pupils from our sixth form attended open days at Oxford University along with Mr Havard, Mrs Thomas and Mrs King. The two days proved to be exceptionally beneficial to those interested in applying to study at the prestigious university and all pupils acquitted themselves admirably.

Our students toured a wide range of colleges (marked off on Rachel Ware's impeccable checklist as they did so), spoke to admissions tutors regarding the application process (several of which, including the languages tutors, claimed they will accept the WBQ) and attended subject-specific talks. It must be noted here that Kirsty Ryan fielded the Physics questions superbly!

In all, pupils and staff alike had a memorable time in the beautiful city and we are now looking forward to aiding our refreshingly ambitious pupils in the university application process. Good luck to all!

The Sixth Form Team.
